LAWRENCE, DAVID
1957—A Year of More War? events in 1956 in Middle East is traditional sequence in which little wars begin and lead to big wars, war over large area is inevitable, consequence of timidity, fear, appeasement of dictators, only by facing up to real danger can catastrophe be averted, Ja 4 p 116
Courage to Prevent War, statesmanship of highest order needed to keep partisanship out of congressional debate on foreign policy, Congress, by courageously approving Eisenhower doctrine, may well avert a big war later, Ja 11 p 136
The Great Danger, danger that national economy may break down more immediate than dangers from Soviet mischief-making, biggest question is whether "big unionism can apply self-restraint, whether government must inevitably control wages and prices, Ja 19 p 140
How Much "Butter"? big question today is how to supply enough money for both defense and "peacetime" enterprises, nation must be militarily strong while filling the needs of people, by prudent policies we can have both guns and butter, but it means foregoing some of the luxuries in government services, Ja 25 p 160
The Presidency of the U S, facts about the Presidential office, together with penetrating analysis of his functions and responsibilities, revealed in a remarkably prophetic essay by Woodrow Wilson on the Presidency, reproduced from his book, "Constitutional Government in the United States," F 1 p 128, 120-127
The Budget That's Too High, today's budget-making methods are obsolete and inadequate, neither Executive nor Congress can familiarize themselves with wide variety of items in budget, Congress should set up coms with proper staffs to study continuously workings of budget system and gather information to guide Congress in deciding what final budget should be, F 8 p 136
The High Cost of Fear, world staggers under armament burdens as govts seek protection against sudden attacks, no menace to peace where there are free govts, we must reach peoples under despotic rule and deal only with representatives of the people chosen in free elections, F 15 p 156
Above the Law, three newsmen ignore State Dept's request not to go to Red China, which is still in state of war with U N in Korea and still holds American citizens as hostages, press has right to gather news but is it wise or patriotic to fly in the face of constituted authority in delicate issue of international relations, F 22 p 156

LAWRENCE, DAVID—Contd.
Tampering with the Ballot Box, Supreme Court of Rhode Island rejects absentee votes in recent election, because they were not cast on Election Day, decision gave State a Democratic Governor although the voters had elected a Republican, such action is usurpation of power by the judiciary, Mr 1 p 124
Turning The Clock Back? what we are hearing in the Sen today is not voice of Dem Party of Sam Rayburn or of three last Dem Presidents, but voice of revived isolationism, time for Dem Party to be true to its traditions and support Admin's policies that seek to avoid war, Mr 8 p 152
Invisible Government, political influence by labor unions thus far has prevented antitrust laws from being extended by Cong to cover labor-union practices, civil rights of every citizen are being abused in numerous labor rackets of today, Mr 15 p 164
U N Assembly is No Super-Government, no power in U N General Assembly to restrain Egypt except to exert moral force in court of public opinion, only part of UN that can take military, economic, measures, compel settlement, is Security Council, where USSR has veto, real power of discipline still in the hands of U S, its allies, Mr 22 p 140
Somebody Else's Money, revelations by Sen Com investigating "rackets" opening eyes of American people, unions should be required to make financial reports under same laws as apply to corps, biggest corrective will come from outraged workers themselves, Mr 29 p 140
"Modern Republicans" and "Modern Democrats," hardly any of terms heard in today's politics is of recent origin, questions have little to do with political slogans and everything to do with what is moral or unmoral, terms should really mean a sincere devotion to the public interest, Ap 5 p 136, 135
Irresponsible Government, budget debate emphasizes lack of party responsibility in divided govt, time has come for Cong to create a comm to study ways, means of establishing a system of "responsible govt" such as Great Britain and Canada have in parliamentary system, Ap 12 p 148
Peoples Above Government, Sec of State's new program of foreign aid is business-like and sensible, opening way for real help to peoples everywhere, by our example of national unselfishness, we can implant in minds of peoples basic thought that there can be peace, economic well-being, beneficial interchange between peoples of world, Ap 19 p 168
"Pennywise and Pound Foolish," many critics are joining chorus to cut budget irrespective of consequences, agitation to reduce budget is salutary, but we must proceed on basis of fact, not wishful thinking, "meat-ax" cutting can cost more in long run, Ap 26 p 156
The High Cost of Greed, in large part budget is high because cost of things Govt must buy has gone up under excesses of inflationary boom, at root of which is greed and selfishness, too many people unmindful of what postwar adjustment really means, excerpts from speech of Bernard M Baruch before City College of New York three years ago, My 3 p 148, 147
Gambles in the "Cold War," risks must be taken in a "cold war" as in a "hot war", gamble in sending wheat to Poland worth taking, Pres must use every opportunity to drive wedge between peoples of Communist-controlled countries and their temporary masters, My 10 p 128
Facts—Not Distortions, many people talking about Federal budget lately have been expressing views based on misinformation, true significance of eight facts concerning the problem explained, My 17 p 160
Let the Communists Take Over, somewhere between $3 and $4 billions is absolutely essential for whole "foreign aid" program unless we really do want Communists to take over in Europe, Asia, Africa, shall we pay small amount of insurance against war, or shall we take chances, My 24 p 160

LAWRENCE, DAVID—Contd.
Who is Forsaking the Republican Platform? when critics are charging that Eisenhower "has gone back on his platform pledges," it is worthwhile rereading planks of 1956 platform if only to note how closely two recent television addresses by Pres parallel pledges made in last campaign, My 31 p 140
Justice to the Memory of Senator McCarthy, with death of Sen McCarthy, it may be possible to examine without personal rancor issues involved in controversy in "censure" proceedings in 1954, contempt resolution is indictment of free speech, "rule" on senatorial conduct and ethics applied to one Sen only, not to others, including the elder Sen La Follette, Sen can restore its own dignity, repair its own prestige by showing it had courage to admit its own mistakes, Je 7 p 144, 139-143
Violence or Reason? moral force is not substitute for but alternative to military force, it means responsible internatlism, responsible natlism and responsible individualism, will, readiness to understand one another is whole basis of rule of reason, Je 14 p 144, 142-143
Disarmament Talk—And Then War? is history prior to World War I and World War II repeating itself in disarmament talks that end in war, logical to consider worldwide reduction of armaments only when world is made safe for democracy and unsafe for dictatorship, Je 21 p 148
Treasons Biggest Victory, net result of recent decisions of Supreme Court has been to make easier escape of criminals, traitors from prosecution, exposure, make harder processes of detection, to cripple investigating powers of State legislatures, city, county govts, to hamstring Cong in getting information needed to write laws to fight criminals, traitors, to make it easier for hostile govts to operate on American territory, Je 28 p 152, 150-151
